Prefatory Note

The present volume in the Calendar Series of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin has been prepared during the past five years by Edward Earl Bennett, Ruth Hardaker, Anne King Gregorie, and Isabel Thompson. These persons held in succession the Lyman C. Draper Fellowship in Western History, which was created by the Society as trustee of the Draper Fund, the income of the fund being used in part to pay the stipend ($500 per year) granted to the fellow. The work was under the superintendent's general direction, but the immediate supervision was exercised by Doctor Louise Phelps Kellogg, Senior Research Associate. It was revised by Annie A. Nunns, Assistant Superintendent, and by Edna Louise Jacobson, Assistant Editor. Clara M. Leiser and Lillian L. Krueger aided in putting the manuscript in shape for the press.

The Draper Collection, owned by this Society is a complex of many collections including among others the Preston and Virginia Papers and the Kentucky Papers (the subjects of Calendar Series Volumes I and II), the George Rogers Clark Papers, the Daniel Boone Papers, etc. It is the earnest hope of the Society to publish in time descriptive calendars of all of the distinct sub-collections; and the presentation in this volume of a calendar covering two highly interesting groups of manuscripts labelled "Tennessee" and "King's Mountain" is an occasion of much satisfaction to the Society.

The Tennessee Papers are preserved in seven folio volumes, marked (XX), the King's Mountain Papers are in eighteen volumes (DD). The marginal press mark, indicating the series, volume, and page, and the figures following the description which define the length of the original document, will serve as guides to the users of the calendar in ordering photostatic or other reproductions. This Society is prepared to supply such aids to investigators at the actual cost of the service.

Doctor Kellogg's unique qualifications for supervising work connected with the Draper Collections are too well known to scholars to require comment.

1781 JULY 26 1XX47 The Tassell. Talk to commissioners. Speaks for the warriors of Chickamauga, who are pleased with Colonel Martin's speech; their people at home promise to keep the peace; McDonald and Scott declare it was not they but Colonel Brown who brought on the recent troubles; presents string of beads to Col. [John] Sevier in token of friendship and desire to keep the peace. Contemporary copy. 1 p. Endorsed: No. 4 The Tassell 27th. Copied.

1781 JULY 26-31 1XX45 Clanosee, Ancoo, and the Tassell. Talks to Col. Joseph Martin and Col. William Christian, at Colonel Martin's house. Clanosee of Settico believes all is well now as result of good talks during the month; will think of nothing now but peace and quiet; bids them farewell; Ancoo of Chota believes the Great Spirit has guided both sides; both can live in the land; is glad they have met in this conference; the Tassell says that four years before the whites requested a small parcel of land to be bounded by Chimney Top Rock; that they promised to run a line but neglected to do so; that they encroached upon his people, who complained that their goods were stolen and their horses driven off; this the cause of the late disturbance; the white people attacked their towns and destroyed their people; the English at Augusta gave them presents and urged them to avenge the thefts and encroachments; these the principal causes of the late troubles; will enter upon the business of the peace tomorrow.

Contemporary copy. 4 pp. Endorsed: No. 2. Tassell's Talk 26 July copied.

[1781] JULY 28 1XX48 Sevier, Col. John. Talk to the Cherokee warriors and chiefs. Assures them he never hated them as a people but fought them for the safety of his people; has taken some of their women and children prisoners; will give up all of them as soon as white prisoners are brought in; trusts they have buried their differences; requests them not to disturb settlers who have planted corn near where line is supposed to run; men from North Carolina will meet them next winter and discuss land question. Contemporary copy. 2 pp. Endorsed: 5— Col. Severe 28th.

[1781] JULY 28 1XX49 Christian, Col. [William] Talk to Cherokee warriors and chiefs. Commissioners have listened to their talk about the land and know very well Indians have never given it away; will write about it to people of North Carolina, who will be honest with them; recent insults and injuries to the Indians made by rogues or those who love the King; trusts that they may now be brothers and live in peace; desires some of their chiefs to attend the Great Council of the thirteen United States at Philadelphia; Colonel Martin will go and return with them and will inform them when men of North Carolina will be ready for a council with them during the next winter. A. D. 2 pp. Endorsed: [Col.] Christian 28. Remr Harlin.

[1781 JULY] 1XX49(2) [Christian, Col. William] Talk to Indian mothers. Has been much affected by their talk; their words and thoughts show human nature everywhere the same; the women of the white people will be touched by their words; their people will be disturbed no more if they will keep the peace. A. D. 1 p.

1781 AUG. 6 4XX48 Smith, Joseph. Letter to Col. Daniel Smith, Washington County [Va.] Is writing to him by Billy Hendrick; delayed in writing by incursion of the enemy; conjecture as to movements of the enemy; Enoch Smith departed for Kentucky; sends regards to their brother Henry Smith and his wife. A. L. S. 1 p.

1782 MAR. 4 5XX16 Fleming, Col. William. Belmont [Va.] Letter to Col. Daniel Smith, Washington Co., Va. Has recent letter from Col. Thomas Marshall stating that Col. Samuel McDowell, Col. Daniel Smith, and Col. Granville Smith have been placed on western commission; is expecting a visit from Colonel Marshall about April 15; believes it would be well to make known when commissioners are to meet so that interested parties from New Orleans, Fort Pitt, and Illinois may be able to meet with them. A.L.S. 1 p.

1782 MAR. 7 4XX49 Preston, Col. William. Fort Chiswell. Letter to Gen. Daniel Smith, Washington [Co., Va.] To be forwarded by Col. Arthur Campbell. n. d. [Campbell, Gov. David.] Battle of King's Mountain, with quotation from official account of Colonels Campbell, Shelby, and Cleveland.
16DD14 Fear of Indian and Tory aggression kept militia of western Virginia, North and South Carolina constantly moving; information of Ferguson's advance to Rutherford County, N. C., caused Isaac Shelby, John Sevier, and Charles McDowell of North Carolina to unite with William Campbell of Virginia on Sept. 25, 1780, and march over mountains with about 1,390 militia; sent General McDowell to ask Gates for commanding officer; council of officers chose Campbell as commander in meantime; joined by Col. James Williams with 400 men; received information that Ferguson was at Cherokee Ford on Broad River; pursued him with 900 of best horsemen; found him entrenched on King's Mountain and attacked him Oct. 7, 1780; Virginia troops in battle commanded by Col. William Campbell, Maj. William Edmondson, Captains James Dysart, Andrew Colvill, Robert Craig, David and John Beattie, William and Andrew Edmondson, Lieutenants Reese Bowen, Thomas McCulloch, and William Russell; Capt. William Neal left in command of weak horse- and footmen; Shelby led center left, Campbell center right; Sevier's regiment and part of Cleveland's under Winston on right wing, Cleveland and Williams on left wing; Campbell gave signal and led advance up mountain; line at east end gave way two or three times but rallied; Ferguson killed, De Peyster surrendered 716 prisoners, with 255 killed and 163 wounded; 30 Americans killed and 60 wounded; Virginia regiment lost about thirteen officers.
